

Interested in solving major chemical engineering challenges in creative ways?

Student positions are available in the PI lab!

- Develop novel intensified processes, with applications in the energy, defense and pharmaceutical industries.
- Develop and apply advanced computational tools including machine learning.
- Design, construct and run your own experimental systems.
- Most suited for candidates with background in Chemical, Biochemical, Mechanical, Environmental or Aeronautical Engineering.